Seeing the Other Side

Dear Friends,
Sometimes the world stage puts Spiritual Truths and issues front and center. Today is one such moment.

The term Brainwashing is much better understood than Gaslighting. But being Brainwashed implies that there is some weakness or infirmity that allows someone to become a victim. Hence, I and others have been using the less well-known term Gaslighting. At this point in time I feel that using the more obscure term of Gaslighting has kept many people from quickly grasping what is happening. People are being Brainwashed through the tools associated with Gaslighting.

Therefore, I believe that Brainwashing is a good popular term to utilize when talking about Trump's followers. They have been gaslighted to the point where their reality is the reality that he is projecting to them and there is no other way for them to perceive reality. Energetic cords from their low bodies hook into low-level entities residing with Trump. When the cords are activated the follower's bodies have a deep fear response. It is as if their lives are at stake.

Controlling this fear response are the psychic energy pictures that we all 'see' when listening to someone talk. These pictures are often accompanied by body sensations. In normal life these psychic energy pictures let us 'see' and 'feel' what someone is describing; a lively dance party or quiet sunset, or the emotional pain of loss.

The speaker can also use false images, conveying to listeners Bright Shiny psychic pictures of being skinny or rich. (TV ads and politicians are great examples).

Trump and the entities are experts at sending people pictures that they not only WANT to believe but (due to the low body energy cords being pulled) MUST believe. It is not fantasy. It is survival.

His entities pull the body cords and the only option they believe they have to save themselves is to do what Trump tells them to do.

Their Third eye is full of psychic pictures sent by Trump and the entities. They cannot see the outer world.

Is there a Spiritual Solution?

These entities cannot tolerate being seen. They are not in tune with his Soul. They are not in tune with his body. They are not in tune with the Souls and bodies of his followers.

If you can, during meditation, come to a place of stillness. Maintain that stillness while turning your Spiritual gaze towards his followers. Let their rageful fear be a curiosity to your spiritual and psychic vision. Try asking:

- Are these emotional outbursts really arising from their Soul's expression through their body?
- How do the Souls involved want to connect to their own bodies now?

We need not fix the entities or Trump or those responding to it. Know that the entities are themselves in profound fear. They have been caught up in Earth's timeline for several generations. Here is the scenario my guides shared with me:

Entering into the Drumpf family in Europe, a group of guides helped a young, quiet scared man find his voice and the emotional strength to survive. As a result, these Survivor Guides kept him alive and he eventually had children who in turn had children and those children had Donald Trump. What are now entities of destruction began as strength providing Survivor Guides.

With this awareness, we can thank them for keeping the vibration of the original Drumpf family present here on Earth. This vibration was deemed essential for the Earth's spiritual evolution. That is why they came to help the original ancestor, named Drumpf. This DNA lineage has not only survived, but flourished. From a state of neutrality and compassion, we ask the entities to 'feel' that linear time has now moved far beyond their entrance point. And we acknowledge that they have done what they came to do. They have succeeded in completing their task. Many generations of healthy Drumpf family members are vibrating within the Earth. So their task is complete. It is time to go. The Survivor Guides can go home.

Gratitude releases all Beings, including Survivor Guides that are so old they have become out-of-tune entities. My sense is to offer thanks for their saving the scared young man named Drumpf centuries ago in Europe. This lets anyone currently alive that they are inhabiting release the entities gently and easily when their own Soul and body deem the time is right.

This is not a forced healing. This is an offering for Survivor Guides, long lost, to return home.

Many people have old Survivor Guides that have jumped from one generation to the next. The farther away from their original linear time they get, the less Survivor Guides understand the current situation. Survivor Guides that helped parents save and be thrifty during the Depression now magnify hoarding tendencies and the fear of releasing (things, emotions, beliefs) as well as promoting difficulty in deeply relaxing and sleeping in their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Spiritual Truth and Survivor Guides

Ideally, Survivor Guides are acknowledged and released as soon as danger has passed. Making a religious trip or committing to some service in Faith are good examples of how people released them in the past. During this time the person consciously acknowledges and thanks those Spiritual Beings who supported them, and this naturally lets the Survivor Guides know their work is complete, and that they can leave. This can also happen in a ceremony towards the end of someone's life.

If that doesn't happen, the Survivor Guides jump out of people as they are dying and into another (usually) DNA related family member. They tend to choose someone with a similar gender and emotional/mental makeup. For this reason I often see old Survivor Guides magnifying chronic habits in those living now. Now, we can't blame Survivor Guides from our grandparents for our behavior or chosen experiences, but they don't help us make better choices either. And as long as they are connected to living people here in current time, they are unable to return to the Spiritual dimension where they can update themselves. Yes, even Survivor Guides learn and grow!

The Drumpf family, now known as Trump, is doing a Spiritual service to let us all see so many things that American society needs to address. Just as I offer the idea of entities being previously supportive Survivor Guides, I hope that we can each see the healing aspect of the various issues now before us.

May we lean our attention towards those guides and angels in human and energetic forms who bring us into deeper states of compassion and understanding.
