Sound Shamanism & Healing Workshop

Beyond the Physics and into the Metaphysics of it All

In sound shamanism the healer doesn't just release energies, she also escorts those energies to their next learning point. Norma will give a demonstration of this Friday evening, and answer questions. She will teach you this technique during Saturday's workshop. It can be used while speaking or singing, and with any musical instrument or healing modality such as Reiki, massage, etc.

Sound Shaman Norma Gentile stands on the precipice between the worlds of professional music making and energy healing. Her singing has "supernatural presence, concentration, and modal sensitivity" according to Mark Longaker (music critic, Washington Post). Norma's gift, to be deeply intuitive and a highly trained musician, allows her to step beyond even the extraordinary, into the truly new realms to which music leads us all.
